Q8Discrimination at the centre

Discrimination means that a person is treated unfairly (i.e. not treated in the same way as others) directly or indirectly, for reasons connected to any of the motives for discrimination. The motives for discrimination, which ensue from the law, are gender, transgender identity or expression, ethnicity, religion or belief, disability, sexual orientation or age. Conflicts based on one or more of the seven motives for discrimination that may arise between service users fall outside the Swedish Discrimination Act and are therefore not counted as discrimination.
